Thank you Erik. Your tone and the flow of the program seems much more sequential and very natural. I especially love your candid comments like I went through the Affiliate Offers section and you say things like "this won't make you money." I love that and makes you not only believable but just like us. The only difference is you are further down the road (meaning you have more expertise) but you are not above us. It is so good. I really LOVED your detailed explanation of Warrior Plus as well. Just a wonderful explanation. I am getting more out of the videos the second time around. It is feeling more natural. And by the way, I think now I am doing the Autoresponder Section maybe to make it less mysterious I would emphasize something you said sort of quietly but it is much more powerful is that this is what BIG companies do when they email us. That this is part of their marketing process. Your comment is simple BUT very powerful. I wouldn't redo the video. I think when you need to do an overhaul that's when I would emphasize that fact. But for me, it was like the light bulb went off and made sense. I think the key is how do the right headline to grab our audience's attention so they give us their email.

Thank you and I will reply to each questions. I was going back and forth and could not move forward because of pending approval. I'm still waiting for Affiliate Com. I hope it will get approval soon!!! I really need it approved so that I can follow your video exactly the same.

Look what I got today!!!! I got approval from Limitless Traffic 4/29 and got closed to 190 leads and I saw this sales!!! I don't have Affiliate Com approved so I used Phoenix Network. (Cannot believe it!! Thanks, Eri. It is a small start but I will take it!!!!

Yes Erik, I will gladly give you a testimonial, as I have been working with you for a long time.

First month we started, I thought this doesn't work as I couldn't make my first sale but after your input I realised the problem was really on my side and I wasn't taking enough action and putting the pieces together.

Still had the shiny object syndrome but couldn't admit it, thanks for your patience.

Second month, after you helped me set up the system & fix my mindset (thank god for that!!) I smashed my first 500 month with a lot of personal issues going on... Feel free to share this. I broke up with my 5 year girlfriend!

Third month, I made over 3000 if I remember correctly and rest is history. Currently I am making 5000/7000 per month and I am okay with that. I am content.

Have enough time to spend with my new friends, enjoy my hobbies and put my life together, thanks for being there for me in my toughest times.

Not just with the money, thank you.
