Frequently Asked Questions

✔ Is this course for beginners?

Yes! Plenty of my students purchased this course and had zero video experience. They did not have an expensive video camera, and they'd never edited a single video in their life. After taking the course, they were able to shoot videos on their smartphone and create profitable video ads.

✔ Is this course for experts? I'm already good at making videos.

Yes! There is something to learn here regardless of current skill level. For students already running ads, just one of the techniques I teach could be the difference between a profitable campaign you can scale. The ones who have taken action on what they learned have had explosive results!

✔ I don't want to run ads yet, should I still buy this?

The system, templates, and techniques I teach in this course can not only be applied to paid video ads, but organic videos as well.

✔ What if I need help, will there be support?

Yes! I'm sure you've purchased something before and you immediately felt overwhelmed. The Facebook group was designed to help you with exactly that. With graduates already inside of the private Facebook group, you won't be alone and there's always someone to help.

✔ Does this course cover how to run the ads themselves?

No. I stick to my core skill of creating incredible videos.

✔ Can I use what I learn in this course to make my money back?

Yes, and plenty of people have. Create your first video campaign, start driving traffic to your website or funnel, and start collecting leads, making sales or generating new clients. This stuff works when applied correctly."

✔ Does Ken really know what he's talking about? Why should I learn from him?

Over the past 8 years, I've created 3,000+ videos for some of the largest brands and influencers in the world. The names I am allowed to share include Peng Joon, Taki Moore and Jason Pilgrim. I'd love to share more of my past successes with you, but $41k for two days of my time buys clients a certain amount of discretion. I've studied and tested what it takes to create a video that gets real RESULTS. I have personally handled every step of the video production process and practice what I preach EVERY single day in my business. I can't think of a single person more uniquely qualified than myself to teach you how to create highly profitable videos.
